

Workbox Weekly Grid

These workbox page cards were made to use along with Sue Patrick's Workbox System in place of the number strips. We print off the page grids onto cardstock and then laminate them to make them more durable.

The workbox pages are color-coded so that each of my children has their own set and we can quickly identify where things go. I included an uncolored set of pages in case you would like to print them off on your own colored cardstock. Once printed, cut on the outside black line. An example of the completed workbox pages is to the right.

Our entire week is laid out using picture cards rather than numbers. I also have a workbox picture card file printable available as a free download. You can see more about how we use our workbox cards by visiting my blog.

If you have questions about the workbox system, be sure to visit Sue's site: <http://www.workboxsystem.com/> or read my review of the workbox system.

There are also TONS of great resources online to use along with the workbox system. Be sure to check out this site for an overview of the system and some great links:
